

ABOUT BOGGO ROAD GAOL (JAIL)

Boggo Road Gaol (Jail) opened in 1883 and was home to notorious escapologist "Slim" Halliday and Whiskey Au Go Go bombers James Finch and John Stuart. Dramatic escapes, riots, hunger-strikes and roof-top protests led to the prison's official closure in 1992. The remaining section - heritage-listed No.2 Division - was decommissioned in 1989. It's walls are covered in authentic graffiti - including strong imagery and language - left by frustrated prisoners in the turbulent 1980s.

GROUP & SCHOOL TOURS

Group tours can be booked for groups of 10+ any day / time - Popular with seniors, schools, universities & social groups. Learn about Australian history, crime, punishment, law and order. Tailored tour times / programs, and re-enactments with prison players can also be arranged.
